

Help Save Your Local Waterfall!

Interstate Falls is a scenic 18-foot waterfall on the Montreal River, near the edge of Ironwood and Hurley. Often known as Peterson Falls, the site is a popular attraction to locals and visitors of the Gogebic Range. The Michigan side of the falls is already closed to public access, and the Wisconsin side is now for sale.

The Northwoods Land Trust, a local non-profit land-conservation organization, is interested in helping to save this scenic piece of the Montreal River. To preserve public access to the river and waterfall, we are trying to raise an estimated $50,000 to acquire a conservation easement covering the river corridor and trail to Interstate Falls.

Help insure that future generations can visit our local waterfall. Make a pledge of support today! For more information or to make a pledge, please visit:
